THE STARS AND BARS.

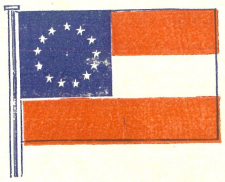

Fig. 1

The flag recommended by the "Committee on a Proper Flag for the Confederate States of America," appointed by the Provisional Congress, in its report of March 4th, 1861, is as follows :

> "That the Flag of the Confederate States of America shall consist of a red field with a white space extending horizontally through the center, and equal in width to one-third the width of the flag. The red spaces above and below to be of the same width as the white. The union blue extending down through the white space and stopping at the lower red space. In the center of the union a circle of white stars, corresponding in number with the States in the Confederacy."

NOTE—The union is square; the stars five pointed. The length of the flag one and a half times the width.

THE BATTLE FLAG.

The Battle Flag is square, having a Greek Cross (saltier) of blue, edged with white, with thirteen equal white five pointed stars, upon a red field; the whole bordered with white. There are three sizes : Infantry, 51x51 ins.; Artillery, 38x38 ins.; Cavalry, 32x32 ins. The proportions for an Infantry Flag are: 48 in. x 48 in. (exclusive of the border); the blue arms of the cross, 7 1-2 in. wide; the white edging to the cross 1-2 in. wide. The white border round the flag proper 1½ in. wide. Total outside measurement, 51 inches. The stars are five pointed, inscribed within a circle of 6 in. diameter, and are of uniform size. The Artillery and Cavalry Flags are correspondingly reduced in all proportions.
